Company's GI On-the-Job Program Rated as Model by USES

BY AUSTIN E. SHOWMAN

Nationwide recognition for its on-the-job training program for disabled and able-bodied veterans has been received by the Marion Power Shovel Co, according to an announcement this week from the Marion United States Employment Service office, as Marion joined other communities throughout the nation in observance of National Employ the Physically Handicapped week.

The Marion Power Shovel Co's GI training program is considered by the USES as an ideal system and outlines of its program have been sent to the approximate 1,800 USES offices in the nation as a model plan to follow.

The company's program, which includes classroom and on-the-job training for disabled as well as able-bodied veterans, is recognized by the USES as the largest program of its kind in the state and one of the larger programs of the nation

Since the program was inaugurated by the company in July 100 veterans have completed special courses at the Harding High vocational school and are now at work in the company's shops Of the 110, fifteen are physically handicapped

Total Now 665

In all the company has reinstated 341 veterans since the close of the war and in addition has hired 324 other veterans, making a total of 665 ex-GI's now employed there

The program began in July when a class of 30 veterans, all employes of the Marion Power Shovel Co, was organized at the Harding High vocational school by company officials with the cooperation of school officials and Francis Field, veterans' representative at the USES office

Classes were set up in blueprint reading, use of precision instruments, machine setup, principles of machine operation and industrial safety The instruction was designed to train the veterans to be machine operators, erectors, inspectors, electric arc welders and burners and structural steel layout men Classes ran for 30 days with the veterans attending from 7.30 a m to 4 p. m. After their 30-day training period at the vocational school was completed, they entered the company's shops for full-time employment, where they are subject to the same rules and regulations as other employes.

Special Group Arrangement

They differ from other employes, however, in that they are divided into groups of eight. For every group of eight veterans there is one "in plant" instructor to whom they are directly responsible and who in turn is responsible to the department superintendent. They will operate under this training program for two years, during which time their pay from the company is subsidized by the veterans' administration to bring their wages up to the amount they will receive from the company upon satisfactory completion of their two-year training period.

Two classes already have gone through the 30-day training period at Harding A third class of 23 now is in session there from 4 p. m. to 12 p. m.

Training for Welders

Those veterans training to be welders also go to the vocational school at Harding for 30 days, where they are given courses in blueprint reading, use of jigs, care and maintenance of equipment, basic fundamentals of arc welding, electric welding and burning

Those who study to be foundry workers however, do not go to Harding but attend special classes in the company classrooms, working part time and attending classes part time They are given

FLORIDA STORM LOSES FORCE; LITTLE DAMAGE

Even Vulnerable Citrus Crop Escapes as Hurricane Weakens.

By The Associated Press

MIAMI, Fla, Oct. 8—A hurricane which boiled up in the western Caribbean to whirl furiously toward the thickly populated Florida west coast miraculously lost its force today, sparing the area from heavy damage

Tampa, St. Petersburg, and other resort cities in the Tampa bay area had prepared for the worst. But the worst turned out to be only moderately high winds early today which swept on up the Florida mainland, turning inland and heading toward south Georgia and South Carolina

A freakish twist, as often is the history of tropical storms, brought relief to the worried, rich west coast. The 125-mile an hour winds suddenly dropped to gusts of 50 miles or so.

Even the bumper citrus crop appeared to have escaped First reports from Lakeland, heart of the grapefruit and orange said the loss was minor A record-making crop with a value of $150,000,000 has been forecast for this season

The weakened hurricane which breezed across the Florida peninsula this morning was expected to remain inland with continued movement over southeastern Georgia and South Carolina today and tonight although strong winds were indicated as far north as Atlantic City

The federal storm warning service in a 7 15 a m advisory placed the storm a short distance west of Jacksonville and moving 30 to 35 miles an hour with greatly "decreased intensity".

Jacksonville had felt winds up to 45 miles an hour in gusts with lowest pressure 29 20, the advisory stated

The hurricane with early winds reported as high as 125 miles an hour at the center entered the mouth of Tampa bay about midnight with great loss of intensity and moved across the state's rich citrus belt.

The 7.15 a m. advisory stated the inland movement of the storm "will cause further loss of intensity, and gale winds near the storm center will gradually moderate today and tonight

Precaution Advised

"Precaution against high tides and squally shifting winds should be continued on the Georgia coast and northward to Charleston and strong winds occasionally reaching gale force will be felt as far north as Atlantic City today," the advisory concluded.

Earlier advisories had indicated the storm would enter the Atlantic in the Jacksonville area and pick up in intensity over the water with a possible threat to the thickly-populated east coast

Apparently the howling storm began to die rapidly as it approached Florida's west coast yesterday. As late as 4 p. m. winds of 95 miles an hour were reported at the center Fort Myers, which the storm missed by some 90 miles, had winds up to 56 miles an hour and gusts up to 80

Reports No Damage

Police Chief E A. Garner of Sarasota reported no damage at Sarasota, Bradenton, Punta Gorda or elsewhere along that area of the Florida west coast.

Lausche Asks U. S. Probe of Meat Shortage

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O. Oct. 8—Gov Lausche today asked the federal government to step in and make an investigation of the meat shortage in Ohio

He also said he was instigating immediately an investigation of his own

In telegrams to Attorney General Tom Clark, J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI, and secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson, Gov Lausche said

"The meat shelves of Ohio are bare Word is current that the available meat supply has been artificially kept from the market. Whether this is true or not I do not know The people are entitled to know the facts

"I therefore urge that a speedy determination and investigation be made to ascertain the facts and prompt disclosure be made to the public so that they will know the true situation"

In his investigation, Gov Lausche called for reports from cold storage plants in the state

DEWEY, TAFT VIEWS CLASH

New York Governor Takes Issue with Ohioan on Nuernberg Verdict.

By The Associated Press

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, potential rivals for the 1948 Republican Presidential nomination, split sharply today over the Nazi war crimes trials

As Democrats kept up their attacks on Taft's criticism of the Nuernberg verdicts, Dewey touched off the GOP leadership clash in New York last night when he came out bluntly in opposition to the Ohio senator's views

Without mentioning Taft by name Dewey defended the fairness of the trials and declared that "no one can have any sympathy for these Nazi leaders who brought such agony upon the world.'

Democrats Gleeful

In Washington, Democrats who have experienced their own intraparty troubles of late, gleefully hailed the Taft-Dewey cleavage as likely to lessen the emphasis on the recent foreign policy schism between then Secretary of Commerce Henry A Wallace and Secretary of State James F. Byrnes

Senator Lucas (D-Ill), describing Taft's stand as a "classical example of his muddled and confused thinking" predicted in a statement that Carroll Reece, chairman of the Republican national committee "will not permit the senator to make any more speeches," Lucas added

"I charge that the Senator (Taft) made the statement about the Nuernberg trial solely for political vengeance or advantage And I predict that this will be a boomerang upon his aspirations

Huffman Attacks Taft's Stand On Nuernberg War Criminals

By ARTHUR B. MYERS

Senator James W. Huffman, junior senator from Ohio, took exception to Senator Robert A. Taft's recent criticism of the Nuernberg war crimes trial last night at a rally at Marion County Democratic Club headquarters.

Senator Huffman, running for reelection against John W. Bricker, challenged his opponent to state his position on the issue.

"The people of Ohio are entitled to know where their senatorial candidates stand on this question," said Huffman. "It would be very interesting to know whether or not my opponent is in agreement with Senator Taft's stand in the important matter."

(Taft, at Gambier, O., last week, said both the Nuernberg and Tokyo war crimes trials were contrary to American principles of justice in that they were held after a law was set up.)

"I am in complete disagreement with the senior senator from Ohio in his condemnation of the Nuernberg and Tokyo war crimes trials. Such criticism, even if justified, should have been offered when the international tribunals were being set up. If these statutes are retroactive now, which I do not concede, they were retroactive then. This is no time to weaken in the punishment of international criminals.

The senator's challenge was made at the conclusion of a talk last night before a crowd of approximately 400 persons which filled the Democratic headquarters to overflowing.

Huffman also called for full support of UN, terming that body the only worldwide organization through which the nations of the world can cooperate at this time.

He said the framers of the UN at San Francisco did not go far enough and that a world court should have been set up and provisions for disarmament included in post-war international planning.

The senator advocated control of the atom bomb through the United Nations Security Council. But, although advocating disarmament, he recommended that the United States maintain strong military forces until other nations give

7 Ohio Cities Curtail Power as Warren Strike Grip Tightens

By The Associated Press

WARREN, O, Oct 8—As a power strike tightened its grip on industrial Warren and neighboring Niles, today, the Ohio Public Service Co asked seven other northern Ohio cities to conserve power voluntarily so essential service could be maintained here.

The company appealed to its consumers in Elyria, Lorain, Sandusky, Mansfield, Port Clinton, Ashland and Alliance to forego unnecessary use of power after the strike by CIO Utility Workers forced industries here to curtail production and lay off some workers.

There was no immediate request for similar conservation in Massillon and Marion, also served by the OPS.

The CIO Utility Workers struck yesterday to enforce demands for an 18-cent hourly pay increase E L Franklin, general manager of the OPS office in Warren, said present wage rates ranged from 80 cents to $1 50 an hour

100 000 Affected

Ohio Public Service Co serves about 150 000 outlets, Vice President M W Thernes said at Cleveland Of this number, more than 100,000 are affected by the plea for curtailed consumption Among the major consumers asked to cut back their use of electricity was the Erie Ordnance Depot near Port Clinton

Affected in the Warren-Niles area were approximately 70,000 residents and numerous industries At least two plants — Republic Steel Corp and the Thomas Steel Co —laid off "dozens of workers" because of the power supply and suspended several finishing department operations. Republic placed in operation a company-owned electric generator to help maintain its output and planned to operate a second

B N. MacGregor, general manager, said the Packard Electric Division of General Motors was operating on an "hour-to-hour basis" Copperweld Steel Co. and Mullins Manufacturing Co. reported it was not definite how soon they would be affected, while Federal Machine and Welder Co and Peerless Electric said conditions there still were normal.

While some of the 110 idled workers picketed the OPS' Mahoning-side generating plant, 21 supervisory employes remained inside to maintain a supply of power for homes, hospitals and other essential services The company said no others would be admitted in an effort to "avoid conflict"

Striking CIO unionists are involved in a jurisdictional dispute with the AFL operating Engineers Union To determine the proper bargaining agent for employes, the national labor relations board has scheduled an election within three weeks.

As the power strike entered its second day, Warren's bus strike went into its ninth. Service of the Warren Transportation Co., which provides the city's only public transportation, was tied up by an jurisdictional dispute involving AFL drivers and members of an independent union, both of whom claim a majority.

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

WARREN, O., Oct. 8—A nine-day strike of bus drivers and garagemen of the Warren Transportation Co. will end tomorrow and public transportation facilities in this city of 55,000 will virtually return to normal, officials of the bus drivers independent union reported today. George Wilkes, president of the independent union, said unionists voted today to return to their jobs at 5:30 a. m. tomorrow in a move designed to halt a jurisdictional dispute with the AFL motor coach employes union.

WILL NOT AFFECT MARION DIVISION

According to information received here the Warren strike of Ohio Public Service Co workers will not affect the operation of the Marion division. Officials said the lines of the Marion division were not inter-connected with other lines of the OPS system Until last summer the Marion plant operated as an independent utility. The Marion-Reserve Power Co

Local OPS officials said the Marion division would be served by an ample supply of current generated at the Scioto power plant south of the city.

NEGOTIATIONS REPORTED IN PROGRESS NOW

Will Ask 20,000,000 Pounds To Meet Needs of Overseas Forces.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8—The war department announced today that negotiations are in progress for a "loan of 20,000,000 pounds of beef belonging to Great Britain to meet the army's current need for troops overseas."

The department had said earlier the negotiations were for Argentine beef, to be taken from Argentina's exportable surplus.

Meanwhile the fight for decontrol of beef headed for a showdown today when the beef advisory committee formally authorized filing of a petition to remove price ceilings from cattle, beef and veal

The committee voted 11 to 1 to petition for decontrol, and authorized Robert G. Thomas, executive vice president of the Lima Packing Co, Lima, O., and Roscoe G Haynie, committee chairman and vice president of Wilson and Co, Chicago, to sign the appeal.

Haynie told reporters that the petition will be based on a contention that, under terms of the price control act, beef is eligible for decontrol One eligibility requirement is that beef cattle be in ample supply.

Haynie declined to name the committee member who refused to vote for a decontrol petition. However, he said the member felt that this is not the proper time for the action

An OPA official told reporters the agency now is working on new regulations which he said deal with distribution of meat supplies and increases in prices on some meats.

Today's announcement said that under plans being discussed with Britain the United States would repay the British with meat, pound for pound, prior to Feb. 28.

The agriculture department meanwhile maintained strict silence on tentative plans for easing the domestic meat shortage as it awaited a formal demand that livestock price controls be ended.

Army Releases Statement

The army announcement said: "The purpose of these negotiations is to provide meat to relieve the precarious food situation for troops in both the European and Pacific theaters and also to lessen the calls on the United States domestic meat sources.

"The procurement of the meat is being discussed on a loan basis, the United States to repay the British pound for pound prior to Feb. 28, 1947."

The war department said delivery would be sought for early November Combined requirements of the army, navy, marine corps and war shipping administration, for which the army quartermaster general buys perishables, is 12,000,000 pounds of beef weekly.

However, only about 4,000,000 pounds weekly has been forthcoming in the past two weeks from federally-inspected packing plants.

This was the day an OPA meat industry advisory committee set last month in announcing that it would file a decontrol petition under the terms of the new OPA act.

Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P Anderson has virtually committed himself to rejecting the petition. The next step would be an appeal to the independent decontrol board.

Aides of Anderson reported meanwhile that the secretary is awaiting White House reaction to the proposals he discussed with President Truman last week for putting meat back on the nation's dinner tables.

Mum on Proposals

These officials declined to discuss the proposals except to state that seizure of livestock on farms is not being considered.

The subject of federal seizure action in another direction was raised, however, by Senator Green (D-RI) who told reporters he thinks the government should take over any excess stocks of meat found in packers' warehouses

Green also said the justice department should investigate whether there is a conspiracy to withhold meat from consumer trade channels.

"There are reports that packers and cattle feeders are striking, hoping to break OPA," the senator asserted.

TO RECEIVE AWARDS IN SAFETY CONTEST

OPS Official To Accept Prize for Marion Unit.

CHARLES S. BOWDEN

National safety awards, recently won by the Marion division of the Ohio Public Service Co. and by the Ohio Public Service Co. in an accident prevention contest among the nation's largest electric companies, will be received by Charles S. Bowden, production manager of OPS at the thirty-fourth National Safety Congress of the National Safety Council to be held in Chicago Oct. 7 to 11, according to announcement from the company's offices in Cleveland today.

Mr. Bowman also will address the convention Oct. 10. His subject will be "A Review of a Twenty Year Safety Prrogram."

For the second consecutive year the Ohio Public Service Co. has finished second in the accident prevention contest. The Marion division, which competed during most of the year as the Marion Reserve-Power Co., in Group C, comprising the smaller companies, was one of the 11 companies which did not have a disabling accident during the 12 months included in this year's contest. The local company led this group in having completed the most man-hours during the year.

The approximately 200 employes of the Ohio Public Service Co.'s Marion division have worked 800,000 man-hours since the last disabling injury in Nov. 1944.

Other Ohio Public Service Co. representatives to attend the convention in Chicago will be Maynard Schnitzler of Lorain; Lon Caldwell of Warren; George Fick of Port Clinton, P. M. Gentzel of Elyria and F. F. Ludwick of Cleveland.

The Pullman - Standard Car Manufacturing Co. says the programs will have to be arranged to "fit the locale." It adds: "Rivers, creeks and waterfalls may call for sparkling, tinkling music. Indian country may call for music with the chanting undertone so characteristic of the early American Indian folk and war songs."

Mackenzie Sees Russ Conflict in Palestine Crisis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The pressing Palestine problem—like most other major international issues of these dangerous days—is heavily complicated by the differences between Russia and the Western allies.

DewittMackenzie

That is to say, uncertainty regarding the Soviet Union's ultimate ambitions very definitely enters into Britsain's hesitation in dealing with this urgent difficulty. I dare say that if Moscow were maintaining a policy of keeping its hands off the strategically important Middle East, England wouldn't hesitate to agree to increased Jewish immigration into the Holy Land over the objections of the Arabs.

However, John Bull is fearful of making a move which would turn the great Arab world against him and thereby give Russia a chance to add the Middle East to its sphere of influence. As things now stand, if England lost control of that area it would cut her empire into halves from the standpoint of military defense.

In short, the whole political and strategical situation is predicated on Britain's relations with Russia, and at this juncture there is no one outside the Kremlin who knows what is in the mind of the sphinx of Moscow.

Hooks Up Neatly

All this strikes me as hooking up neatly with the disclosure by an authoritative war office source in London that the British general staff has proposed tentatively the withdrawal of administrative and supply bases in the eastern Mediterranean — including Palestine — to the East African colonies of Kenya and Tanganyika. This source declared that the proposal envisages retention of Britain's forward operational bases as long as practicable in such countries as Palestine, the Sudan, trans-Jordan and Egypt.

Well, now what does this sensational suggestion mean? Up to this juncture Britain's plan for imperial defense has depended on controlling the Mediterranean and the Suez canal—her life-line to the Far East—and this necessitated domination of the Middle East, with its large Arabian population.

The last war made it clear that it was highly unlikely that Britain could hold the Mediterranean in a third world conflict. Hitler demonstrated that danger when he had European armies driving down toward the Middle East while Marshal Rommel was racing hell-for-leather for Alexandria across the Libyan desert. Had the Nazi dictator closed that vast pincers, the Allies would have been in a bad way.

Heavy Debate Reported

These points presumably have been under the military microscope in London. I understand there has been heavy debate among the experts as to which course to pursue—the old or the new.

The old school is said to have advocated sticking to the strategy of trying to defend the Mediterranean route. The new school has wanted to scrap that and establish a defense across Africa from the Gold Coast on the west to Kenya and Tanganyika on the east, with South Africa as a link in this defense to safeguard the Cape of Good Hope route to India and Britain's other Far Eastern territories.

Apparently the new school has won in the main, with the compromise that Britain maintain her Middle Eastern zone of influence so long as feasible. The corollary to this would seem to be that London soon may feel greater freedom of action in dealing with the Jewish-Arab controversy in Palestine.

One doesn't suggest, of course, that Britain would agree to unrestricted immigration of Jews against Arab wishes. However, the handling of 100,000 Jewish immigrants—as advocated by Washington—or even double that number, might be achieved without undue difficulties pending settlement of the question of the Jewish national home which England promised in 1917.

MRS. THOMAS AGAIN ELECTED BY W.C.T.U.

Annual County Convention Is Held at U. B. Church.

Mrs. C. A. Thomas was reelected president of the Marion County, W.C.T.U. at the annual county convention Friday in the First United Brethren church. Chosen with her were Mrs. L. E. Hartsell.

Prayer by Mrs. Thomas and group singing directed by Mrs. A. L. Wood, county director of music, with Mrs. A. E. Van Asbeck at the piano, opened the meeting. Mrs. John H. Clark, president of the Marion Harris Armor union, conducted the worship service, reading from St. John 14:1-4.

County department directors and heads of units gave reports of the work of their groups following greetings from the president. The noontide song was presented by Mrs. Wood and Mrs. J. W. Horne of LaRue, county director of International Relations for Peace, offered the noontide prayer. Prayer by Mrs. Thomas, group singing of the National Anthem and salute to the Flag led by Mrs. Clara Lawrence, county director of soldiers and sailors work, opened the afternoon session. Rev. Faulkner chose as his subject, "The Transforming Power of Indwelling Christ." God has made man in His own image, he stated. Continuing he said: "God in all His wisdom and power sent His Son into the world to redeem fallen man from his sins. The power as it leaves the generator is of high voltage and is transformed to a lower voltage that we may safely use it in our homes. Therefore by faith in Jesus Christ, through the perfectness and righteousness of Him as He walked this earth among men we are given the dynamic power for Christian service if we will follow in the path our Master trod."

Mrs. L. E. Stanley conducted a memorial service in memory of five members whose deaths occured during the last year. She was assisted by Mrs. L. A. Keller who sang "Abide With Me." White chrysanthemums were used for the service.

Mrs. Wohrley, who with her husband served as medical missionaries in Tibet, talked on "Religious Education." She is superintendent of the children's recreational center in Newark and her talk was of special interest to Sunday school teachers. Mrs. Raymond Donaugh, president of the Frances Willard Union played an accordion number during the offering and music for the program included two whistling solos. Mrs. Lawrence led the group in the pledge to the Christian Flag and the program was completed with the W.C.T.U. benediction by the group.

ike Rustling Serious Matter in Modern Rome

If they ir trusty bikes it is a very serious matter, since otherwise they must walk.

Cheer Police Announcement

Hence they cheered to the echo an announcement by the forces of law and order that the police at last had laid by the heels one Libertario Pampinicchi of no recorded address or lawful trade, whose exploits in recent weeks had won him in the public prints the dubious appellation "the terror of the cyclists."

It was a notable service that the police had performed, said law-abiding citizens, for the mysterious "Terror" was besmirching the fair name of the community, not to speak of causing cyclists anxious days and sleepless nights.

And there was no blinking Pampinicchi's guilt, the police said, for they had caught him "red-handed" or "in flagrante delicto," in the vulgate of the earlier settlers.

When they fell upon Pampinicchi and secured him, the officers testified, he was perpetrating another of the coups which earned him his sobriquet — decamping with seven or eight bicycles which trusting burghers, hastening to the offices where they earned their daily bread, had confined to his care.

Method Simple

Pampinicchi's modus operandi (old Roman for "method of operation"), said the minions of the law, was efficacious because of its very simplicity. They described it thus:

Having taken cognizance of (A) the thousands of cyclists in the Eternal City, (B) the number of buildings bearing notices "no bicycles" and (C) the pretty problem these posed for those who must pedal to work, Pampinicchi;

1. Obtained official - looking headgear with the deceptive legend "authorized bicycle guard," signs reading "bicycle parking—10 lire" (a modest emolument, since it is just over four U. S. coppers) and certain apparatus promising orderly alignment of the contrivances entrusted to him:

2. Set up shop on well-traveled thoroughfares;

3. Continued operations until he had seven or eight "machines" in hand, and then

4. With the aid of confederates lurking nearby, folded up his parking lot and its contents like the Arab and as silently stole away.

A recent example is that of a lady who wished to repay 25c after 50 years. After exhaustive calculations by various expert mathematicians it was estimated that the value of one quarter dollar had increased to $13.65.

An extreme case perhaps, but a few minutes figuring on any amount you choose will soon show that even a month's extra interest is not to be overlooked. Get your deposits for October in promptly and watch each month carefully.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDESEN, M.D.

Lung Cancer

It is a grim fact and one worthy of attention that at least 15,000 people in the United States die each year of cancer of the lung. Men are more often afflicted than women and for them, the lung would appear to be the second most common location for cancer, only the stomach being a more frequent site of this disease.

Early diagnosis is the only hope when cancer attacks an organ as vital as the lung. Thus, it is terribly unfortunate that in the beginning, when the growth is small, X-ray examination usually shows nothing abnormal.

An irritating and persistent cough, however, develops early. Sometimes, blood is brought up and there may also be some wheezing. Hence, it is of great importance that anyone showing signs of continuing disorder of the lungs have special examinations made to determine whether or not cancer is present.

One of these involves the use of the bronchoscope, an instrument made up of a tube with lights that can be passed into the lung. A bit of tissue can be removed through the bronchoscope and examined under a microscope to determine if cancer is present.

Once a diagnosis of lung cancer is made, immediate operation is advisable in most cases. X-ray and radium treatments may also be of some help.

The symptoms of cancer of the lung are due to irritation and destruction of a bronchus which is one of the large tubes of the lungs. As the growth enlarges, the air passage will be blocked, and there will be stretching of the emphysema. There may also be some collapse of the lung tissue, called atelectasis.

As the cancer invades more and more of the lung tissue, more severe symptoms develop such as pain, the coughing up of large amounts of sputum, and loss of weight.

By this time it may, of course, be too late to do much for the patient. Not only will a great deal of the lung have been destroyed by the widespreading growth, but cells from this original cancer may have traveled through the blood stream to the brain or spinal cord, setting up new malignancies there.

This process of sending out new colonies of cancer cells to other locations is known as metastasis. It may occur with almost any cancer but is especially likely in cancer of the lungs.

This is the dreadful course of this dreadful disease and nothing could emphasize more strongly the urgent need for its early discovery or bring home more forcibly the fact that any one who suffers from a persistent cough should lose no time in consulting a doctor.

SCOUTING EXECUTIVE ON LIONS PROGRAM

Joseph Schlosser Shows Film for Luncheon Club.

The program at the Lions club luncheon meeting Monday at Hotel Harding was in charge of Joseph Schlosser, program chairman for the month. A field executive of the Harding area of Boy Scouts, Mr. Schlosser showed a film entitled "Scout Trail to Citizenship." This picture depicted Scouts from the time they are a Cub until they become a citizen, showed the various activities of the Boy Scout, and the things they are taught through the ranks of scouting.

After the film was shown, he made a survey of the Lions club membership in connection with scouting. Through this he found these things: the Cub planning committee of the Harding area is composed entirely of Lion members; five Lion members are neighborhood commissioners; one Lion is a Scoutmaster; one is an assistant Scoutmaster; the president of the club, Cecil Gabler, is chairman of the leadership training committee, and three-fourths of the members were Scouts at one time, with three of these being Eagle scouts. The latter was found by the show of hands in the meeting. Mr. Schlosser urged further cooperation from the members in scouting activities.

In keeping with district governor week which is being promoted by Lion International for next week, Clarence D. Jenkins of Mt. Vernon, O., governor of District 13-D of Ohio, will be guest speaker at the meeting next Monday noon, it was announced by Cecil Gabler, president. Mr. Jenkins will also conduct the induction of several new members.

Featured committee of the week was the safety committee. Its members are Fred Warner, chairman, Robert Scott, Robert Bush, Gene Gunder, Perry Cooper, Ted Brownlee, Lowell Williams, Willis Nye, and R. E. Vestal. Mr. Warner reported on the activities of the committee and also on their part in aiding in the Safety Campaign Saturday. The social committee will be featured next week.

Guests were Carl Malin of Columbus, Bernard Pfeiffer of Kenton, and Harry Lurye and William Ogan, both of Marion.

Employment for the Handicapped

AMONG all the weeks set aside for observance none could be more noteworthy than this, for it has two programs of utmost importance and concern to the public.

One is Fire Prevention, a problem of long standing that has been called to our attention annually for many years. The other is Employ the Physically Handicapped, which is presented for the first time as a special week's appeal.

The urgent need of guarding against fire hazards has been emphasized often and in detail so we shall not attempt to add much here to what has already been said and written on the subject. We'll merely sum it all up with the reminder that virtually every fire is preventable and that the terrible toll can be greatly reduced if people in homes, business places and industrial plants exercise the care and caution so ably and clearly stipulated by fire fighting authorities and insurance companies.

As a comparatively new subject, however, there is much to be said for the vital necessity of giving serious attention to Employ the Handicapped Week, an observance which rests primarily with employers in business and industry. In Marion there seems to be little need of making an appeal, for according to all indications employers here are entering into the program whole-heartedly and virtually without exception. In fact, the movement seems to have started here ahead of this special week specified for national observance. Evidence of this is found in today's Star, which contains accounts of a notable program operating at the Marion Power Shovel Co. plant. The recognition given this achievement in industrial management and public service is a mark of honor and distinction for the community as well as for the Power Shovel Co.

However, according to records at the local office of the United States Employment Service, there are still a half hundred or more physically handicapped persons registered as applicants for employment who have not been placed. This will be a glorious week indeed if all these can be placed in jobs as a result of the movement now under way. Experience has shown there is work that physically impaired persons can do and that they invariably do it well.

Many of these are men who served in the war. To provide them with suitable employment would actually be an observance of both phases of this special week. They are physically handicapped and they became so from helping extinguish the most horrendous conflagration in the world's history, the flames of a war that would have destroyed human rights and freedom had it not been for such men as these. To provide them with employment is indeed only a very small fractional payment of the debt we owe them.

Managed Economy

THE people's investigation into the New Deal proposal for a managed economy is further along than it was when the war intervened.

Instead of halting the investigation, the war speeded it up. The people learned about a managed economy in the most practical manner possible. They took part in a managed-economy.

It is hard to think of anything the government didn't manage directly or indirectly, during the war. It has retained most of its basic prerogatives of management and shows no sign of giving them up, though the war now is far in the past. The United States now has had five years of managed economy, counting the months before Pearl Harbor when everything was being geared to war production under government orders.

There never was less enthusiasm for managed economy, which suggests that the people's investigation into New Deal claims has been proceeding perhaps more rapidly than New Dealers care to admit. They are confronted at an awkward time with a tentative conclusion that the American economy cannot exist half controlled and half free.

They are unable to extend the area of control and unable to exercise the controls they already possess. On the other hand, they are unable to make much progress toward extending the area of freedom, being caught in the political paradox of trying to save face by continuing to do the thing causing them to lose face.

The demonstration of managed economy hasn't been selling the article.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Nuernberg Adds Little to International Law.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. — The Nuernberg Chief Prosecutor Justice Jackson is internationally proclaiming the trial made a new world law—the principle that the planning, preparing, initiating or waging of aggressive wars has become a crime punishable by death. This man who made the law considers it a hopeful sign for the peace of the world.

This is somewhat a delusion. Actually about all that Justice Jackson did was to make it a crime to lose a war.

If the aggressor wins the next war, he can hardly be expected to hang himself for his violation. If he loses, he will run the risk of hanging, but this has been true for many thousands of years, especially among the least civilized people. The more savage, less cultured or unChristian races have seldom in history taken top prisoners and leaders of losing armies and states have not infrequently committed suicide to save themselves such a fate—although in American wars these practices have never been followed.

Future Effect.

Whether any future aggressors can be deterred to peace by fear of hanging if they lose is a hope which is thin. Any person willing to risk life in war or revolution could only be mentally unsound if he feared the rope more than the bullet.

For that reason alone, the Nuernberg verdicts created little comment in or out of official life here. I think the common reaction was one of mild distaste, but no one chose to say why. No sympathy for any of the defendants existed anywhere. The only one of the entire baton who had any sense is Hjalmar Schacht, the reichsbank president and financial genius. Schacht contrived the financial strategems which led to Hitler's early economic successes—such devices as arbitrary maintenance of the internal value of money while selling it restrainedly and for selfish purposes outside, and otherwise keeping a bankrupt nation afloat. The Hitler financial setup was his, but when the fuehrer went to war, the inside story was told here that Schacht saw the government could no longer hope to succeed, married a young woman and busied himself with personal affairs far from the reichsbank. He was released because he was never in "the Herren club" and frankly his connection with war guilt was not directly established.

Von Papen is a man of great personal influence in Germany. The list of his relatives is the list of the board of directors of German industry. His escape will greatly strengthen American prestige, but a point may have been stretched for him by the judges.

Fritzsche Case.

The third defendant who was released, Fritzsche, is not known by most authorities here in any personal way, and his slip from the wheels of justice is attributed to lack of evidence that he knew anything about anything, except his wheezing propaganda.

As far as public point goes, a number of persons shared the Russian chagrin that even these three should have escaped punishment. But the tribunal, in its broken decision, certainly disproved any suspicion that it was actuated purely in vengeance without justice or was creating some new and peculiar kind of justice such as was measured out to the cruel Jap General Yamashita by our own army court-martial.

The decision left in some confusion and doubt, however, the point of whether a military man can be hung merely for conducting a war. Two German generals and two admirals were found guilty, apparently not of violating military codes, but of some kind of political responsibility for having been Hitler's military leaders. Take the case of Gen. Jodl who was probably the military brain of Hitler. The decision claimed only that he planned the attack on Czechoslovakia, Norway, Greece and Yugoslavia and burned the houses of people in Norway. He was ordered hanged because "there was nothing in mitigation." A military planning of attacks has never been considered a crime. (they exist today in all war department archives) but the burning of homes might be a crime if it was in violation of military necessity and custom. If so it should be tried by a German courtmartial.

Avoid Precedent

Yet the judges tried to make it clear in other remarks that they did not want to establish a precedent of trying military men for doing their patriotic duty. The suggestion was offered that Jodl and Kestel, as well as Doenitz and Raeder were somehow politically intertwined with Hitler beyond the necessity of military duty. Under this kind of confusing verdict, I suppose our own generals could be absolved for planning campaigns in future wars (if they won) while the Russian generals who are politically intertwined in Communism might be convicted of crime (if they lost.)

How much has been added to international jurisprudence is therefore in doubt. Anything added to peace is largely theoretical. How much may be added to the necks of the 12 who are to be hanged is immaterial.

Didn't the Losers Demand a Rematch?

A San Diego wrestler recently won first prize at the county Dahlia show.

This came as a distinct surprise to his fans. They never suspected the Red Terror had a green thumb.

They figured the only flowers of which he had any knowledge were cauli-.

Wrestlers usually go in for hammerlocks rather than horticulture. They know more about assault and battery than asters and botany.

But the Dahlia-champ should worry. He may never win the diamond belt which symbolizes the neighborhood's world championship. But he'll be the only mastodon in matdom with a blue ribbon on his trunks.

Incidentally, his pleasure at winning the Dahlia-diadem was doubtless doubled by the fact that nobody booed the decision.

Elliott and Pop

By RAYMOND MOLEY

THIS seems a good moment to insert a calm word amid the hoots and snorts which have greeted Elliott Roosevelt's magazine articles and book about his father. His book, "As He Saw It," tells of many incidents and conversations which took place at a series of international conferences, beginning with the one which produced the Atlantic Charter.

It is unnecessary to defend Elliott Roosevelt's activities and views in saying that this record is an addition to the history of the war and that it was legitimate to write and publish it.

Those who have condemned the articles and the book out of hand and, it must be added, in an unnecessarily intemperate manner, seem to miss an essential fact about history. The book is the thing, not the personality of the author. The most valuable first-hand account that we have of the first two years of Washington's Administration is "The Journal of William Maclay." The author was a senator from Pennsylvania. He was rabidly partisan, gossipy and unfair. His journal is full of irrelevance and bad taste. But it is invaluable history. It was not written long after the events. It was set down by a man who saw with his eyes and heard with his ears. Such accounts are most valuable corrections against the growth of legends.

History from Many Sources

Nor is history made by a single witness. The record of the past is a mosaic by many people. Ultimately, historical scholars check and recheck, sift the grain from the chaff, eliminate the false and preserve the true. But they could not work without first-hand material. And Elliott Roosevelt's book is first-hand material. Its ultimate test will be the truth, and none of Elliott's critics have made the case against the truth of his record. That must wait for the appraisal of time. Meanwhile, the burden of proof is on the critics.

If, for example, he has not told the truth about Churchill, there is ample means of forming a reply. Churchill is a professional writer. He has never been loath about writing his own record of things. And in all international conferences he was backed by diplomats and scribes who, by habit, write down everything that happens. The British foreign service is more adept at writing the record than any organization in the world. We need not feel sorry for Churchill.

The most fantastic objection to the younger Roosevelt's performance is that this is not the time to publish his story. When, pray tell, is the time to tell things? Is there a season for truth? The matters which President Roosevelt discussed with his son had to do with your affairs and mine. They involved the blood, treasure and happiness of Americans. Should the public be spoon-fed by some authority which determines when, where and by whom we should be told of the doings of our public servants?

Seldom Made Record

Roosevelt seldom made a record of what he was doing and saying from day to day. Jim Farley did. Harold Ickes did. And the boys in the state department did. But with blithe confidence that somebody else would make the record and watch out for mistakes, Roosevelt went his crowded and active way. This used to give heart attack to some of us in the days when I served him. We would run to each other and say, "What happened? What did he say to so and so?" Somehow we kept the record straight in those days. But we had little aid from him.

This trait went on clear through Yalta, with fewer and fewer people around the President keeping track of the multitudinous events with which he dealt. Whatever we can get of first-hand information about Roosevelt's war years is important. For this gay, confident and carefree man was making stupendous policy.

I cannot judge the truth of the Elliott account. Much of it concerns conversations without witnesses. But this I can say from personal knowledge; it sounds like Roosevelt. And further, he told his children everything. He loved to have them around. He tried to hold their interest by telling them great stories of great events. The man who talks in this book is the man that many of us know.

It ought to be possible to disagree with the Roosevelts without screaming at everything they did. This seems to be forgotten by many who are writing about Elliott's book.

The Yanks had a one game lead and the Cards were counting on their star pitcher, Grover "Alexander the Great" to lead them over the obstacle.

Danger in U. S.-British Row

By WALTER LIPPMANN

AS MR. TRUMAN and Mr. Attlee chide one another about Palestine it would be well if responsible men on both sides of the Atlantic looked beneath the surface and resolved to think seriously about British-American relations rather than to react irritably. For this unfortunate incident is only one among many symptoms which should make us realize—especially those who have long believed in and worked for the partnership of the English-speaking peoples of that partnership have still to be elucidated.

For if Mr. Truman has meddled in a delicate negotiation where the immediate responsibility is Britain's it must not be forgotten that in the Middle East Mr. Truman has for the first time in American history been making commitments which place upon the United States an ultimate responsibility for the security of the whole region and of the British position in that region. How immediate responsibility, which is British, and ultimate responsibility, which is also American, are to be shared and harmonized no statesman on either side of the Atlantic yet knows.

But that there is here a problem of immense gravity and complication no one should attempt to deny. Though it is the fashion for the moment to ignore it, largely out of fear that to examine the British-American problem is to give aid and comfort to the Russians, we may take it for certain that unless those who believe in the British-American partnership grasp the nettle those who wish to disrupt the partnership will exploit the differences which we have failed to resolve.

Gags Are Half Truth

Lord Lothian, who was not only a most effective ambassador but also a British-American statesman of the first rank, understood the problem, and never—even in the darkest days of the war—lost sight of it. "Anglo-American relations," he once remarked in a speech at St. Louis, "are always difficult to talk about * * * there are, however, two sayings which each contain the proverbial half-truth which I cannot forbear to quote tonight because they tend to put the question in a humorous perspective. One is the well-known American gag about the attitude of Great Britain, 'England expects every American to do his duty'—that is, come to the assistance of the British Empire when it is in trouble. The other is the British gag about the attitude of the United States 'America expects the British Navy to defend her right to be neutral.'"

Lord Lothian was speaking in April, 1940, before the United States had entered the war, before lend-lease, before the destroyer-bases transaction. British-American relations are now different than they were then in that American neutrality, when Britain is involved in a world conflict, is no longer conceivable. But the residual problem as yet unsolved, remains—namely that while the initiative and the authority are in London, the consequences must be met also in Washington.

There is no reason why responsible British opinion should ignore and deplore, and profess not to understand, this fundamental problem. Henry Wallace, for example, has not solved the problem or even, in my view, reached the point of stating it correctly. But if the British are wise, they will not be satisfied to answer Wallace's words. They will look deeper and see that the words are those of a man who cries "Ouch!" though he does not know for sure where and why his shoe pinches him.

Because of their experience in the evolution of the empire into the commonwealth, British statesmen should be prepared to understand, far better than they appear to at the moment, the inner problem of British-American relations. They have lived long enough not to talk as they could not understand the difficulty which Americans are trying to express when they say, as so many Americans do, that they are partners with the British commonwealth of nations, but that they do not know what they are in relation to the British Empire.

The World Series, Bless Its Heart!

THE World Series is on, and it is the greatest asset the United States has. This country owes more to it than all the presidents, congresses and statesmen. Without it, Life would seem all Wallaced and Gromykoed up. Take it away and what have you? OPA, horsemeat and Pravda editorials!

Eliminate the series and what's left after you strain it? Stalin, the atomic bomb, strikes, meat substitutes and quiz programs!

No country that ever went in for baseball ever started a war.

If you concentrate on batting averages you will never think you are Napoleon. No man who knows the standings in two major leagues ever thought it good fun to strut on a balcony.

Mussolini never knew the softening influence of "one o' cat." The trouble with Hitler was that he had never peeked through a knot hole in an outfield fence. Molotov would be a different man if he had ever munched peanuts in the bleachers.

What chance is there that anybody would become a warlord if he had ever taken time to score a ball game and had always reached for an all hot instead of a sword?

Why is Joe Stalin so difficult? Because he has never sat in the hot sun in his shirtsleeves, drunk out of a bottle and let off steam by yelling "Ya big bum" at a left fielder. What's the matter with Pravda? No box-scores!

If we really were determined to get world peace, we would recall Jimmy Byrnes and send over a few pitchers, hold all future meetings in a baseball park and get the world behind the thing. A ten cent frankfurter and roll, with mustard!

UN lacks hitters. The Paris conference has no good base runners. Tito thinks a double steal has something to do with Trieste. Molotov has never been asked to autograph a baseball.

You can hang around the Kremlin all day and never hear a radio say, "The bases are now full and nobody out."

Look at China! What explains its troubles? No Chinese in history has ever called another Chinese "Bugs," "Lefty" or "Babe."

We bow before the World Series and salute baseball. For a few days the series makes us like our fellow-man, cheer a brother human being and feel kindly toward the human race.

It makes us forget ceilings, the Wyatts, the Porters, telephone bills, income taxes, ultimatums, Wallace speeches, the War Assets Corporation, John L. Lewis, the veto power, modern restaurant menus and black markets. Sock it out, kid!

OUR CHOICE
You take the League of Nations—
Yours be the UN, too—
You choose the great orations

You pick the statesmen, dearies,
The global planners all;
For peace I'll take the Series,
And that great cry: "play ball."

Ho hum, time for bed. Another day another dollar. Nothing like a good night's rest. Knit up the ravelled sleeve of care. Hit the hay. Get some of that good old shuteye. But first—

Put out the cat. Bring in the dog. Fill up the furnace. Put away the car. Pull down the garage doors. Turn off the garage light. Pick up the bicycle. Stand up the rake. Close the window.

Walk through the yard. Trip over the wagon. Stumble into a stray basket. Punt a tin can. Drop-kick a milk bottle. Give out with a few oaths. Remember the neighbors. Look again for the cat. Put him outside the second time. There goes the dog. Put him inside the second time.

Make sure the furnace is all right. Put away the tools. Pick up some broken glass. Close the draft. Open the damper in the pipe to the bedroom. Fill the evaporator. Pile up the old newspapers. Brush off the muddy shoes. Clean off the cellar steps. Clear up the cellar stair landing. Fill up the dog's dish of water.

Make sure the light's out. Lock the front door. What about the back door? How about the side door? What about the inner man? Look in the refrigerator. Look in the cupboard. Get out the bread. Get out the preserves. Fix up a snack. Brush off the crumbs. Turn off the light.

Climb up the stairs. Untie the tie. Peel off the shirt. Jump out of the trousers, but remember—one leg at a time. Untie the shoes. Remember the shade is up. Turn out the light. No, pull down the shade—oh, oh, pulled it too hard. Put back the shade fixture. Now put off the light.

Pull off the socks. Get rid of the unmentionables. Find the pajamas. Try to find both halves of the pajamas. Try to find both slippers. Get ready for bed. Better read a few minutes first. Get out of bed. Look for slippers again. Find something to read. Decide to go downstairs.

Go downstairs. Kick a misplaced chair. Pat the dog. Look in the refrigerator again. Still the same, huh? Look in the cupboard. Hey, peanut butter—fresh jar. Get out the bread. Get out the milk. Give the poor dog something to eat. See what the cat will have.

Put out the cat. Keep in the dog. Clean up the mess. Turn out the light. Climb up those steps. Get a drink of water. Put up the window. Close the register. Set the alarm clock. Make yourself comfortable. Pull up some more covers. Breathe deeply. Make the mind go blank. Relax the hands and feet. Let the mind wander. This is it, the good old hay, time for the good old shuteye, the end of another day.—

But, unfortunately, you're too tired to go to sleep.

The double ring ceremony was read Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Nevada Lutheran church by Rev. S. P. Diehl. Bouquets of white gladioli and mums and candles in two six branch candelabra decorated the altar. Only the immediate families attended.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. William Roth Jr. played "Intermezzo" by Provost and the traditional wedding marches. She played "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte during the ceremony.

For her wedding, the bride chose a French blue wool dress with which she combined black accessories. Her corsage was of white rosebuds and her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. Her only attendant was Miss Lucille Edgington, sister of the bridegroom. She wore a pink wool dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds. Her jewelry was a gold cross, a gift from the bride.

Serving as best man for the bridegroom was Donald Bardon, brother of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bardon wore a black dress with matching accessories. Mrs. Edgington was attired in a soldier blue dress with black accessories. Each wore a corsage of blue and white pompons.

A reception at the home followed the ceremony. When the couple left on a short wedding trip Mrs. Edgington was wearing a gold suit with black accessories. Upon their return the couple will reside on a farm west of Bucyrus.

Mrs. Edgington was graduated from Nevada High school in 1945. Mr. Edgington was graduated from Mt. Zion High school in 1939.

WAISTLINE WIDENS

By The Associated Press

AMSTERDAM — No official statistics show the increase in the average Dutch waistline, but there are other reliable signs. A year ago the "placeurs," the functionaries charged with the distribution of the seats at the circus could packed 3,400 spectators on the unnumbered wooden benches. This year the placeurs can pack hardly 3,150 people on the same benches.

OPA CHANGES PRICING RULES

Control Group Reshuffles Regulations Governing Many Items.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 — OPA changed some of its price tag rules today to end what one official called "chiseling by some retailers."

Involved are many so-called "brand name" items such as clothing, shoes, furniture, rugs and shower curtains. Usually well-advertised and sold on a uniform price basis, the retail price ceiling tag has been placed on them by the manufacturer and producer.

Previously, when this ceiling price advanced, OPA allowed the retailer to re-ticket his entire stock at the new higher prices.

This must stop Oct. 14, OPA announced, so that sales are made on a basis of actual cost at the time of shipment—plus the legal profit margin at that time.

Different Ceilings Seen

The result may be that some retailers will be offering identical "brand names" at different ceiling prices.

"Too many retailers were getting wind of impending price increases," the OPA official told a reporter. "Then they would hold their entire stocks back, wait for a new shipment and re-ticket the whole lot at the higher price."

Other price developments included:

1. Higher ceilings upon some cotton knitwear which OPA said might bring increases as high as 30 per cent.

2. A cutback of raw sugar allowed to manufacturers of bulk sweetened condensed milk after Nov. 1. OPA said the milk condensers would get about 60,000 less tons or raw sugar annually.

3. A formal petition for decontrol of coffee on the grounds that supplies are ample to meet demands. It may take several weeks before this reaches a final decision by the decontrol board.

Allows Incentive Pricing

The cotton knitwear increase, effective today, allows incentive pricing to increase production of staple items such as polo shirts, tee shirts, children's two-piece cotton suits, cotton sweaters and creepers.

Previously these incentive price hikes had been limited to low-cost items and then subject to a "cut-off price" above which they could not rise. Today's action brings higher-priced staple items under the increase and includes knitted outerwear, long pants and overalls.

Based on previous experience with increases to stimulate production of low-cost garments, OPA said retail prices "will run around 30 per cent" higher.

OPA said the cutback in sugar allocated to milk condensers was recommended by the agriculture department because the industry was obtaining too large a share of limited sugar supplies.

assurances that they will also disarm.

"The common sense approach to all security is in safeguarding the power of the United States," he said.

Calls Democrats Progressive

Huffman described the Democratic party as the party of progressivism. He pointed out gains made by the common man during the Roosevelt and Truman administrations, including full employment, fair compensation, and social security.

"I have been recorded on every important roll call," he said, "and my record shows that I have always recognized the necessity of putting human rights above the dollar mark and the need of meeting changed conditions."

"The issue in this election," he said, "is whether the U. S. shall continue on the road to a fuller life for all our people or return to selfish exploitation of the many by the few."

Huffman declared his opponent, John W. Bricker, had consistently opposed what he called social progress. Only recently, Huffman said, Bricker had spoken against extension of social security.

Social security, Huffman said, is not only humanitarian, but is practical, since it will support purchasing power during any future period of unemployment and help prevent a depression.

Stating that the Republican party was always ready with destructive criticism but had no program of its own to offer, Huffman said that since the last Republican administration the national income has increased manyfold.

"Production is now twice as great as under any Republican administration," he said. "The factories are now turning out goods at a greater rate than in any pre-war year."

Cites Higher Income

Wages earned are greater than ever before, he said, pointing out that in 1933 the average wage per hour was 45 cents, compared to a $1.02 average in 1945.

The increase in prosperity has also been reflected in agriculture, he said. He quoted the following figures regarding national farm income: 1929, $413,000,000; 1933, $217,000,0000; 1942, $635,000,000; 1946, approaching one billion.

Other candidates introduced at the meeting included John Siemon of Kenton, candidate for congress from the Eighth Congressional district; David Nolan of Bellefontaine, candidate for state senator, and Clarence U. Ahl, of Bucyrus, candidate for judge of the court of appeals.

Siemon, describing himself as a farmer and a neophyte in politics, called for election of liberal candidates in the coming election.

"If we elect a reactionary congress of northern Republicans and southern Democrats the people will lose what they have gained during the Roosevelt and Truman administrations," he said.

The meeting was opened by Harold Smith, president of the Marion County Democratic club. Thomas Fetter acted as master-of-ceremonies and introduced the candidates.

WATER WORKS PLAN STUDIED AT LA RUE

Columbus Engineers Discuss Proposal with Officials.

Special to The Star

LA RUE, Oct. 8—Discussion of a $123,900 water works system for the village featured a meeting of LaRue council Monday night when a representative from a Columbus engineering firm appeared before council members and told them preliminary surveys for the water works project would start within a week or two.

The engineer was from Alden Stilson and Associates, whom the council has employed to make the survey. The first check of $2,500 from the federal works administration to finance preparation of plans and specifications is expected this week, the council reported.

An advance of $4,500 to the village recently was granted by the federal works administration to make the survey. Specifications call for construction of elevated storage tanks, wells, pumps, a water softening plant and a distribution system.

The council Monday night also discussed the possibilities of a sewage system, but no official action was taken on the matter.

Council members are of the opinion that the water works project could not be brought before the voters at a special election but would be submitted at the primary election next year, since it is too late to get the issue before the voters in this year's general election.

The preliminary survey will include setting up locations for the pumping station and wells, council members were told. The pumping station is expected to be located in the north end of the village. LaRue residents now get their water supply from private wells.

Columbus Car Strike Parley Set Today

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 8—Labor-management conferences today on the street car and bus strike here should determine "whether it will be settled in a day or two or whether it will last indefinitely," says U. S. Conciliator H. J. Montoney.

Emerging from a session last night, Montoney declared: "Tomorrow we will know the score."

The strike, now in its eighth day, was called by the CIO-Transport Workers Union here in support of 30 cents hourly wage increase demands. Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company has countered with an eight cents offer.

REGISTRATION HITS HIGH MARK IN BIG COUNTIES

The heavy registrations before Monday night's deadline surprised elections officials in several areas. They had predicted a general apathy for the "off-year" balloting.

Portsmouth Fire Loss Estimated at $200,000

PORTSMOUTH, O., Oct. 8—Fire swept two floors of the four-story Montgomery Ward store on Sixth street in the downtown section early today, causing a loss estimated at $200,000 by Acting Fire Chief Howard Kiebler.

Fireman Luther Boling was injured when he fell through a hole in the second floor.

The fire was discovered about 3 a. m., and firemen fought it for three hours before it was brought under control. The Portsmouth fire department received assistance from New Boston, Lucasville, Minford and South Webster.

Chief Kiebler estimated $150,000 of the loss was in stock, damaged by both fire and water, and $50,000 was in building damage.

9 More Die of Injuries Received in Dutch Crash

By The Associated Press

APELDOORN, HOLLAND, Oct. 8—Seven more schoolboys died in a hospital today, increasing to 19 the number killed by a Dutch naval plane which crashed into a school gymnasium yesterday, setting it on fire. Seven other boys remained in a hospital with burns.

Max Ch[illegible], 24, pilot of the British-made Firefly, also was killed when it fell as he was stunting. His mother, watching, died of heart trouble.

Driver Escapes As Train Wrecks Truck

A truck was demolished but its driver escaped injury today at 2:02 a. m. when it was struck by a northbound Big Four freight train at the West Center street Big Four crossing.

Burton Gossard, 25, of near Kenton told police he had pulled onto the tracks, driving east, when he noticed the watchman at the crossing start to wave a warning flag. He attempted to back the truck off the tracks, he said, but stalled it and jumped. He was fined $10 and costs today in municipal court when he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving the truck without license plates.

FARMER FIRES GUN, HALTS CHICKEN THIEF

Poultry Losses Revealed by Keener Pike Incident.

An attempt to steal chickens at a farm residence on the Keener pike as thwarted last night when the farmer fired at the intruder with a 410 gauge shot gun, scaring him away before he entered the chicken house.

Sheriff's officers who were called said they could find no evidence that the intruder had been hit. Members of the farm household said the man apparently was let out of an automobile which approached the farm buildings from the east. As the intruder started to climb over a fence near the chicken house the farmer shot at him, frightening him away. The incident happened between 9:30 and 10 p. m.

A number of chickens were stolen from the same residence two weeks ago and several other farmers on the Keener pike have reported chickens missing within the last several weeks, the sheriff's office said.

GI TRAINING

174 hours of related instruction.

Disabled veterans attend the same classes and go through the same training as the others, and through "selective placement," putting a disabled veteran in a job he can handle most efficiently, is giving special recognition to their remaining abilities.

Still another form of veteran instruction is under way at the Marion Power Shovel Co. plant, the training of "Junior Sheet Writers," a combination of draftsmen and routing engineer. These men are being taught drafting and routing engineering. Eight such men now are being trained in the production engineering department. All training is carried out in the company's classroom with company instructors. The course began Aug. 22 and will continue for two years with some classroom work during the entire period.

The company's newest program for veterans is a special course for time study engineers, which will open soon for approximately 20 men. The veterans will be given 30 days of initial training before entering the company for classroom and on-the-job training.

With only a few exceptions, the men have been employed by the company and enrolled in the special classes through their applications at the USES office. There they are pre-screened and through selective service are recommended for jobs for which thy are best suited.

3 Unions Woo 700 'Rebel' Pittsburgh Power Strikers

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 8—Three other unions—two AFL and one CIO—were trying today to take over the segment of 700 "rebel" members threatening to break away from the 3,200 member Independent Association of Employes of the Duquesne Light Company, now in the 15th day of a paralyzing power strike.

The rival unions were the AFL-United Mine Workers, District 50; the AFL-International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and the CIO-Utility Workers Union.

All of these, along with the independent association, want their names on the collective bargaining election ballot, if and when the national labor relations board decides an election is necessary.

The rebellion in the ranks of the independent union broke out nearly a week ago when spokesmen for the 700 said they were dissatisfied with the leadership of George J. Mueller, president of the independent union, and proposed an organization of their own.

Unofficially, it was reported that the NLRB expected to rule sometime today on whether an election to decide between the various unions was needed.

Meanwhile, the strike itself appeared tied into a tighter knot than ever.

Duquesne Light Co. negotiators last night rejected a second new offer from the union calling it "a mere reshuffling of proposals made in the last offer."

The company said the union offer was merely a recombination of the 11 major proposals in its last offer, with the added promise to arbitrate the remaining 30 points of dispute if they could not be negotiated within 30 days.

Federal mediators have arranged separate meetings with the [illegible] and management negotiators today.

The power strikers seek a 20 per cent increase which would raise pay from $1.18 to $1.41 an hour, [illegible]. The company has offered a five per cent raise.

Schacht Arrest Called Illegal

German Official Challenges Procedure Which Jailed Acquitted Banker.

By The Associated Press

STUTTGART, Germany, Oct. 8—Dr. Richard Schmid, state attorney of Wuerttemberg-Baden, challenged today the legality of Hjalmar Schacht's arrest last night and demanded that the former Nazi economic minister be released until he is convicted by a German denazification court.

Schmid cited the German denazification law, which provides that Germans accused of Nazi affiliation should not be confined until after they are convicted by a denazification court. Schacht's arrest was ordered on charges that he had been a "leading Nazi."

The irascible former Reichsbank head was arrested here last night an hour after he arrived from Nuernberg, where he was acquitted of war crimes charges by the international military tribunal a week ago today, and several hours after the chairman of the Nuernberg denazification board announced that proceedings had been introduced against Schacht, Franz Von Papen and Hans Fritsche, also acquitted.

Schacht's arrest was ordered by the Wuerttemberg-Baden ministry of state despite a declaration earlier in the day by Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, deputy U. S. military governor that the military government preferred that the three acquitted defendants not be arrested "until they can be tried under denazification laws and found guilty."

Fire Marshal Sees Juvenile Problems

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 8—State Fire Marshal Harry J. Callan in a statement marking the opening of Fire Prevention Week said his office had been swamped with requests for investigations of incendiary fires.

Remarking he was particularly concerned about the juvenile problem, Callan said, "the problem of children setting fires has been building up for a number of years." He cited the recent indictment of a 16-year-old youth in Youngstown on a charge of attempting to fire a hotel.

Callan predicted, however, that Ohio's total fire loss for 1946 would be well below last year's. He explained "the number of fires is running about the same but there have been many fewer large fires where losses might run to half a million." In 1945 Ohio had 24,029 fires costing $15,951,679.

STORM

likewise reported no damage and very little wind.

Strongest winds, the warning service said, were in the area between Sebring and Orlando, a stretch of fine citrus groves. Orlando reported gusts of wind up to 70 miles an hour.

R. N. Simpson forecaster of the federal storm warning service, called the storm a "freak condition" and said it may not regenerate until it reached the Atlantic.

It was too early to tell what damage the storm might cause the state's citrus crop, just reaching maturity and estimated to be worth $150,000,000 to $200,000,000. A production of 102,000,000 boxes of oranges, grapefruit and tangerines had been forecast for the 1946-47 season.

"Over the Hurricane" Plane Forced To Land

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Oct. 8—The army's B-29 weather plane which yesterday sought to fly over the top of the hurricane was forced to land—probably because of a fuel shortage—in Guatemala City, Morrison field reported today.

When last heard from the plane was flying at 28,000 feet and the roof of the storm reared up to 33,000 feet. Army authorities did not know if the plane hurdled across its peak.

Flown by Major Paul H. Fackler, the weather plane with pressurized cabin left the airport at 12:30 p. m. yesterday and reached 17,000 feet over West Palm Beach before heading for the gulf.

MARSHALL SAYS CHINESE REDS REJECT ARMISTICE

Issuance of Statement Deemed Significant in Itself.

NANKING, Oct. 8—General Marshal, in an unprecedented statement, confirmed today that Communist leaders rejected an offer of a 10-day truce in the Kalgan offensive to permit both sides to "talk things over."

Issuance of the statement was fully as significant as its contents, which some observers interpreted as dooming hopes for peace. It is the first time that Marshall, special U. S. envoy, has released verbatim exchanges of notes between his office and the two battling Chinese factions.

SEE IMPROVEMENT IN VETS' BUILDING

Supply Men Meet Here with Federal Officials.

More building materials for veterans housing should be available in the future, Marion lumber dealers and building supply men were told by representatives of the civilian production administration and the federal housing administration at a meeting Monday night in the Chamber of Commerce office.

The CPA and FHA representatives of Columbus predicted the government's program of limiting industrial and commercial construction would release additional materials for veterans desiring to build homes.

Meeting with the 27 lumber dealers and building supply men were Clyde Moran and D. P. Miller and the CPA and Fred Kessler of the FHA. During the discussion the federal representatives outlined the priorities system for obtaining building materials. With factory building limited to $15,000 without priority and commercial building limited to $1,000, they suggested the federal program was working to the benefit of the homeless veteran. To obtain application for priorities veterans must write to the federal housing administration in Columbus. Applications for priorities for farm building must be made through he AAA office.

The current lumber shortage, the Columbus officials said, is due to shortage of rail cars which normally haul lumber from the west coast. Only about 14 per cent of the normal number of cars are now being used in shipment of lumber from the west, they pointed out. The problem of proper distribution of lumber is largely responsible for the shortage in building materials, they said.

The meeting was called by R. T. Mason, first vice president of the Marion Chamber of Commerce. Louis E. Michel, Chamber secretary, introduced the speakers.

for the presidential nomination in '48."

Taft said Saturday that the Nuernberg verdicts, condeming 12 top Nazis to death, were a miscarriage of justice and "violate that fundamental principle of American" law that a man cannot be tried under a law enacted after the alleged offense was committed.

"Had Fair Trial"

Dewey's statement, in which he was joined by Irving M. Ives, G.O.P. nominee for U. S. senator in New York, declared flatly that the German war criminals had "fair trial."

In Detroit, Taft said he did "not care to comment pending fuller study" of the Dewey-Ives and other statements.

In Washington, Senator Pepper (D-Fla) said he was "shocked" by Taft's stand.

In New York, Jack Kroll, director of the CIO political action committee, told newsmen Taft's statement was "right in line with Bob Taft's record. Bob Taft has never recanted his isolationism."

U. S. Official Adds New Anti-Inflation Warning

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8—Marriner S. Eccles, federal reserve board chairman, kept the government's anti-inflation war going today by posting a fresh warning that prosperity hinges on wage-price trends.

Eccles spoke out sharply against a possible "second round" of industry-labor disputes over new wage increases, a tendency to withhold consumer goods from the market for higher prices, speculative activity in real estate and the generally rising cost of living.

If those things can be overcome, the federal reserve chief told the agriculture department's annual outlook conference yesterday, the nation can look forward to a long period of prosperity.

Portsmouth Steel Firm Suspends Operations

By The Associated Press

PORTSMOUTH, O., Oct. 8 — The Wheeling Steel Corporation announced today it would discontinue operation of its barrel shop here on Oct. 19. Approximately 430 employes will lose their employment.

The barrel shop was acquired by the Portsmouth Steel Company last July 1 along with the rest of the Portsmouth works of Wheeling Steel, but Wheeling had continued operation of the shop until accumulated orders were filled.

Portsmouth steel said it did not have sufficient sheet steel to continue operation of the shop, and was negotiating with other firms for lease or sale of the plant.

Portsmouth Steel announced it had plans to install a sheet mill plant about two years hence.

The barrel shop has manufactured steel containers for oil, gasoline and food.

amount of fish, poultry, butter and eggs in storage, he added.

After a conference with B. P. Sandles, asistant state director of agriculture, and George W. Owen, assistant chief of the division of food and dairies, the remainder of the 90 storage warehouses were asked by telegraph to submit their quarterly reports immediately.

Under state law, the warehouses must report the amount of provisions sold and the amount on hand every three months.

Attention first will center on the July 6 report as compared with the Oct. 6 report, the governor added.

A spot check also will be made by state inspectors.

The governor said the appeal to the federal government and the decision to instigate a state study of the meat situation had no connection with the request of the Ohio CIO council today that he take such action.

A quick examination of reports from cold storage plants in larger cities indicated slightly larger beef holdings during the quarter ended Oct. 6, but a heavy drop in port holdings, the governor said.

The Sheriff St. Market, a Cleveland cold storage plant, reported total meat holdings of 980,459 lbs. on July 6, compared with 1,118,669 lbs. on Oct. 6, he said reports showed.

Some 400 private lockers in the 90 warehouses are not affected by the investigation, the governor's office said.

Herbert Calls Lausche Move Bid for Votes

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 8—Thomas J. Herbert, Republican nominee for governor, today declared the action of Gov. Lausche, his Democratic opponent, in ordering an investigation of the meat situation in Ohio to be "nothing more nor less than a desperate man's frantic appeal for votes."

Shortly after the governor had ordered the investigation and also had asked similar action by the federal government, Herbert said in a statement:

"Only last Friday the governor prevented his Democratic state convention from adopting a plank calling upon the New Deal administration to take steps to investigate the meat shortage.

"It will take more than a New Deal investigation to put meat on the table.

"Let the governor ask Washington to remove the New Deal price controls. His move today is nothing more nor less than a desperate man's frantic appeal for votes."

TWO IN HOSPITAL AFTER AUTO CRASH

Injured When Car Crashes Into Pole and Tree.

Two persons are in City hospital today following an automobile accident on South Prospect street near Washington avenue at 12:45 a. m. today.

They are Stanley McGinnis, 20, of 324 Quarry street, who suffered lacerations and abrasions of the face; and Venus Stephens, 21, of 188 Lincoln avenue, who sustained contusions of the head.

Miss Betty Brockelby of 188 Lincoln avenue was released from the hospital after being treated for cuts and abrasions of the face.

The trio were riding in a car driven by James C. Harruff, 23, of 432 Cherry street. Police said Harruff, driving north on South Prospect street, was unable to make the curve near Washington avenue and crashed into a telephone pole on the east side of the street, shearing it off, and caroming into a tree. The car then upset. It was demolished, police reported.

Harruff was fined $15 and costs today in municipal court when he pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving.

UNITED LUTHERANS MAY GET PALESTINE SCHOOLS

Convention Considers Proposal To Organize Children's Missions.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 8 — Delegates to the 15th biennial convention of the United Lutheran Church in America considered today a proposal that the church take over a Syrian orphanage in Jerusalem and former German mission institutions in Palestine, if final terms of the peace treaty permit.

The proposal was prepared for presentation to the convention after approval by the board of foreign missions and the executive board.

Ready to go to Palestine in connection with this missionary project is adventuresome Dr. Edwin Moll, general secretary of the church's board of foreign missions and the pilot who flew Lawrence of Arabia on some of his most perilous missions in World War 1. He plans to leave within the next three weeks.

Harding Visits Lima South Friday As St. Mary Entertains Marysville

Prexies On Alien Field While Irish Gird For League Battle

By GEORGE ROEST

Both local grid teams will see action Friday night as the Presidents from Harding go afield to engage Lima South and St. Mary battles Marysville in a local stadium tilt. Kick-off time at the stadium is 8:15 p. m.

Both Lima South and Harding have been in the loosers' column in their last two games. The Lima squad however had two victories preceding while the Prexie loosing streak was only interrupted by a tie.

Lima Coach Pessimistic

Not at all optimistic about his team's chances of gaining a victory over the Marion club, Lima South Headcoach W. L. Thiesen said today that he expects the two teams to be evenly matched. "Harding," he says, "has been playing out of their class," and he doesn't claim to have a team of the same caliber as former Harding foes.

Considering that South beat two teams rated higher than Harding and dropped one each to Hamilton and Middletown, it appears that once again Harding is the underdog. On the basis of last week's performances however in which both teams lost by 12 points to equally rated opponents the Lima mentor's prediction may be correct.

Not offering any excuses for not stopping Kistler and Distel and thus getting jolted out of the unbeaten ranks last Saturday night, St Mary will play the Marysville Monarchs in the second Mid-State League game for both teams.

Undefeated in League

Both are undefeated in the league and this game may well decide who will wear the crown. St. Mary has a record of two wins, one tie, and one loss while Marysville has two wins against no losses.

Only other undefeated team in the Mid-State league, Mt. Gilead, will entertain Richwood Friday night. Richwood has dropped four in a row while Mt. Gilead has a three out of four record.

In the Northern Ohio league top team Shelby goes to Ashland for a non-league tilt. Upper Sandusky in a three way tie for second place with Bucyrus and Norwalk plays a league game at Willard. Bucyrus will clash with the Galion Orangemen on their own field. Crestline in the lower flights of the standings engages Tiffin Calvert at Tiffin.

Still boasting a perfect record after being scared by Ada last Friday night Carey goes to North Baltimore for an afternoon contest Carey has turned in impressive victories over Mt. Gilead, Richwood, and Columbus Grove, this season but is due to drop one or two before the season is completed.

Six-Man Tilts Booked

County six-man football goes into its second round this weekend, Caledonia having emerged at the top of the heap in the first round with three consecutive victories. The leading six will entertain an improved Prospect club this Friday. Claridon, second in league standings, visits LaRue.

Three other future Harding opponents were set back last weekend. The only team victorious of the five remaining opponents was Ashland, Harding's bug-a-boo in the old N C O Ashland had a relatively easy time of it in downing Sandusky, Harding's final opponent, 12 to 8

Other Prexie foes who did not fare so well are Springfield which dropped a 32 to 0 decision to Lima Central and Findlay which was downed 21 to 13 by Fremont Ross Indications are that the future won't be as black as the past.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn —Only four teams have scored as many as three touchdowns against University of Tennessee football teams coached by Bob Neyland.

Vanderbilt scored a 20-3 victory in 1926, Neyland's first year as head coach of the Vols; Alabama whipped Tennessee, 18-6, in 1930; Auburn won 20-7 in 1937, and Boston college won 19-13 in the 1941 Sugar Bowl game.

GRID DEATHS LAID TO INCREASE IN PLAYERS

High School Official Points to 15 Per Cent Hike.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 8—H. V. Porter, executive-secretary of the National Federation of High School Associations, today attributed a rise in football fatalities among prep players this season to an estimated 15 per cent increase in the number engaged in the sport.

Nine deaths thus far have been noted by The Associated Press—eight of the victims being high school youngsters and one a college student Six fatalities directly attributed to accidents on the gridiron were reported for the entire season last year.

"An estimated 450,000 schoolboys are playing football this season," Porter said. "A postwar growth in enthusiasm for the sport is one of the main reasons for an increase of 15 per cent over last year. Approximately 75,000 are covered on the gridiron by insurance.

High school football fatalities this year included 17-year-old Henry Franka, son of the Tulane coach, who died Sunday of a brain injury suffered Friday night, 16-year-old Robert Kannum of Franklin, O; Joseph Jefferies, 17, Downington, Pa; Willis Sielaff, 17, Osseo, Wis; James Clark, 17, Ligonier, Pa; John Dolan, 17, South Kortright, N. M; Richard Lithgow, 16, Elmhurst, Ill, and Leonard Jeffries, 15, Elk Point, S. D.

The only fatality in collegiate football was reported last week when Billy Joe Whitehead, reserve fullback for Texas Tech, died after being injured in practice.

CABBIES CANCEL GRID TILT WITH MASSILLON

The Safety Cab A C.'s will not play their regularly scheduled game with Massillon this Wednesday night because of a conflict with a Harding band practice

The next scheduled game will be here Saturday night with the Dayton Bombers a high flying colored outfit that has been undefeated in two games this season. Announced cancelation of the Bombers game last Sunday should have been the Dayton Rockets. This is the first time the Bombers have been scheduled by the Marion team

The Dayton team boasts a combination of speed and deception while the Cabbies will rely on weight and speed which they also possess.

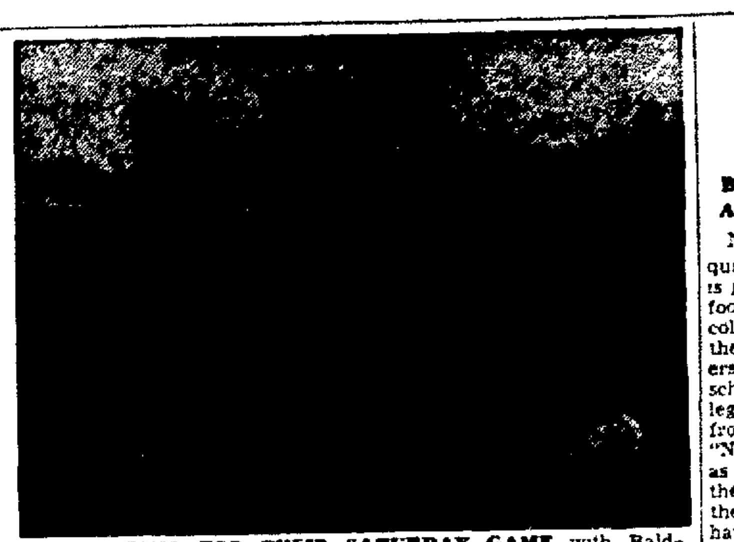
Negro Team Subdues Feller at Columbus

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 8—Satchel Paige's Negro All-Stars defeated Bob Feller's American League All-Stars 4-3 in an exhibition game here last night before 9,044 fans

Feller pitched three innings, getting three strikeouts. Tom Lewis pitched the entire game for the Negro team. The series score of the two clubs now stands at seven victories for Feller's team against four for Paige's.



JUST WAITING FOR THEIR SATURDAY GAME with Baldwin-Wallace are these three Ohio Wesleyan coaches, anxious to start their home season after three games on foreign gridirons. The Battling Bishops have a great team this year, and George E. Gauthier, center, is going all out to ready his eleven for the season's highlight with the strong Baldwin-Wallace team. Game time at Selby Stadium is 2.15. On the left is Bob Strimer, backfield coach, and Sterling Geesman, right, is line coach.

Nagurski and Feathers Trade Plaudits in Admiration Fest

RALEIGH, N. C.—Nominations for the all-time Gridiron Mutual Admiration Society:

Coach Beattie Feathers of North Carolina State college and Bronco Nagurski, the bucking bone-crusher who now scouts for the Chicago Bears of the National Football League.

Bronco thinks Feathers is the "greatest running back I ever blocked for." And Feathers thinks the Bronco is the "greatest blocker and fullback I ever knew."

They made a great backfield team for George Halas' golden era of Chicago Bear supremacy in the mid-thirties.

Seeking to prove his point about Nagurski, Feathers recalls a 1935 game between Johnny Blood's Pittsburgh Steelers and the Bears Nagurski blasted through center after taking a pass-off from Feathers.

With two beefy opponents hanging onto his back, Bronco accomplished the following innocent destruction simply by running over those who sought to hit him head-on:

Broke the shoulders of two men who hit him thigh-high and put a third out of competition with a broken collar bone

The North Carolina State mentor says that no old-time professional ever attempted to tackle Nagurski.

"They always used a rolling block," Feathers explains "It was the only way he could be stopped. The three men he eliminated from the Pittsburgh lineup in a single play were all freshmen in the league and apparently hadn't been warned about the big boy."

Feathers, still holder of the National league record for yards gained in a single season—1,052 yards in 1934, an average of 9 8 per try—says "it was easy behind Nagurski." The Wolfpack coach also played with Brooklyn in 1938 and 1939 and with the Green Bay Packers in 1940.

Krueger Doomed To Be Known as Rose Bowl Al

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES — Antelope Al Krueger, end of the All-America Conference Los Angeles Dons, played three outstanding years of varsity football for the University of Southern California — but is doomed to be remembered for just 40 seconds of one game.

Krueger is the end who nabbed four straight passes from Doyle Nave, the last a touchdown heave, in the final 40 seconds of the USC-Duke Rose Bowl tilt in 1939 to pull the game out of the fire and hand the Trojans a 7-3 win over the previously unscored-on Duke.

Despite his fine play in other games over a three-year span. Al is always known as plain "Rose Bowl Al"—the guy who caught that pass"

"It used to be that high school boys came up to the college expecting to learn something from the coach," Ted complains. "Now we tell them something and as soon as our backs are turned they're talking it over among themselves. Every afternoon I have to chase five or six of them off soap boxes." . . . Rosequist figures they've heard too much about the high salaries in pro football—and those reported unofficially in some colleges.

Brecheen's Screwball Restores Series To Even Proposition

Baseball Observers Scent One of Game's Upsets in the Making

By The Associated Press

ENROUTE TO BOSTON, Oct. 8—Harry (The Cat) Brecheen's darting screwball, the best any lefthander has shown since Carl Hubbell quit, has restored the 1946 World Series to an even proposition.

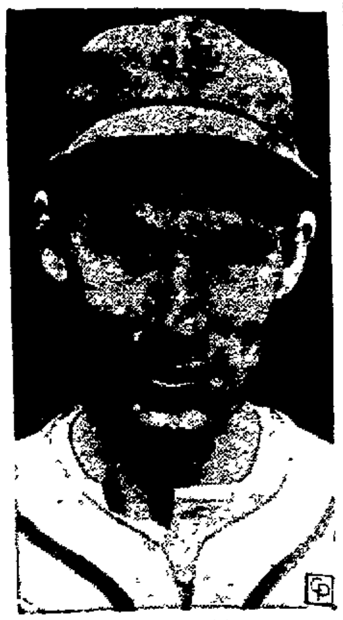
As the teams took the day off for travel to Boston's Fenway Park after splitting the first two in St. Louis, Manager Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox still had an ace up his sleeve—Dave (Boo) Ferriss, who had reeled off 25 victories of the Sox' total of 104 But he now will be able to see only limited action.

Two Games Only

By holding out Ferris to work the third game tomorrow against Murray Dickson at Fenway Park, Cronin probably will be unable to get more than two games out of his ace winner.

More than one baseball observer sensed in the Cardinals' aggressive play during the first two games the hint of a tremendous upset of the pre-Series dope—an upset comparable to the one the fleet 1942 Red Birds handed the mighty New York Yankees.

Billy Southworth was gone, but Eddie Dyer, a new type of inspiring leader, had come along with a blend of young players and such holdovers as Terry Moore, Enos Slaughter, Whitey Kurowski, Marty Marion and Stan Musial, then a rookie with the '42 World Champs.



HARRY BRECHEEN
The Cat Claws Red Sox

While losing the opener in 10 innings 3-2, and grabbing yesterday's second game, 3-0, the Cardinal pitchers have turned back Johnny Pesky, a 335 hitter, without a hit in nine at-bats. They also have held the great Ted Williams with the "Dyer shift" to one hit in seven trips. Rudy York's game-winning homer in the first game was the only Boston extra base hit. The Birds have registered four doubles and a triple

Dyer's lefthanded pitching by Pollet and Brecheen deserve credit for shackling the Sox power.

Brecheen's swerving screw ball came in for the most attention in the American league club house The talented southpaw from Broken Bow, Okla., winner of 15 and loser of 15 in the regular season, counted five shutouts in his record before yesterday's brilliant job that stopped Boston 3-0

The Series now will continue at least through Friday at Boston, and is quite likely to be carried to a sixth game Sunday back at Sportsman's Park. A seventh, if necessary, will be played in St. Louis a week from today, after a Monday off for selling tickets

Columbus High School Grid Teams Score at 1,440 Point-a-Game Clip

Linden McKinley, Central Run Up Three TD's in 36 Seconds

By DON STULL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 8—Ever see a football game where the scoreboard total reached the 1,440-point mark?

Neither did anyone else, but fans who sat in on the Linden McKinley - Central High school game here over the weekend were treated to a scoring burst that averages that tempo for little over half a minute.

They saw three touchdowns in 36 seconds and in a 48-minute game that'd add up to 1,440 points. Here's what happened:

Fullback Zob Walston tallied one for Linden and they came back and kicked off. But Central fumbled and Linden's Bob Peiter recovered behind the goal for another. Then Central's Joe Kaiser hit Buddy Jackson with a pass that gained 70 yards for Central's only touchdown in the 24-7 rout.

Canton Joins Ranks

A scoring burst paid off for Canton Timken, too. After a pointless first half, the Trojans bounced back with five touchdowns and swamped Uhrichsville, 33 to 0.

A first-quarter flurry staked Zanesville's Blue Devils to the biggest upset of the week—a 14-12 triumph over the unbeaten Alliance Aviators. Fullback Ralph Sharrer cracked Alliance's line for two TD's in the first five minutes of play and he and R. D. Craig each added an extra point.

The defeat dumped the Aviators, previously only undefeated squad in Stark county, out of the running for the state mythical championship, but they weren't alone in their plight. At least a half dozen other contenders saw their victory strings snapped as the season neared the halfway mark.

Mansfield Stops Portsmouth

Portsmouth Trojans' title aspirations were doused by the Mansfield Tygers, who dumped them 14 to 7 and asserted themselves as top-flight contenders for the crown.

Once-beaten Youngstown Ursiline got over the hitherto uncrossed goal line of Youngstown East and knocked them into the vanquished ranks by a score of 19 to 7.

Dayton Kiser blasted an 11-game victory string for Northridge, thumping them 21-14, and East Palestine tallied nine points in the final period to edge Lisbon, 9 to 7, in a battle between two three-straight winners.

Chillicothe's Cavaliers suffered their first defeat in four games, too, but there was a measure of consolation as they bowed, 19 to 6, to Ironton's Tigers. The Cavaliers held Ironton's great back, Dick Boykin, to an average of 4.5 yards per try in the 22 times he carried the ball. Boykin, who had averaged better than 10 yards in 35 efforts in three previous games, did score two touchdowns, however, and passed for a third.

Some Pass Hurdle

A majority of the top title contenders got over their fourth hurdle successfully. Cleveland's Cathedral Latin, with the most impressive record in the state, thumped Cleveland East Tech, 25 to 6, for their 29th win without a setback. Newark's Wildcats rallied in the final half to overcome Lancaster, 26-13, for the 'Cats 16th straight win. Campbell Memorial, unbeaten since 1944, polished off Farrell, Pa., 20-6, and Toledo Waite romped over Toledo Woodward 42-0.

The kickers, often forgotten in modern grid warfare, came into their own over the weekend, too. Halfback Carl Codwen of the Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster booted a 43-yard field goal as the Cadets overwhelmed Columbus University High, 30-0. Mansfield's Ross Frisbee, booting two extra points in that triumph over Portsmouth, chalked up his 10th and 11th consecutive conversions of the season, and Dick Thomas of Columbus East, practicing the rare art of drop kicking, plunked four out of five through the uprights as East beat South, 34-6 for East's first win of the year.

Storybook Air Force Hero Now Big Nine's Leading Yard Gainer

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 8—Halfback Bob Chappius of Michigan, an understudy for Tom Kuzma in 1942 and an Air Forces veteran of 21 missions with a storybook escape from the Nazis aided by Italian partisans, is the Western Conference's leading yard gainer this week with an average of 129 yards in two games.

The hard-driving 180-pound halfback from Toledo has gained 192 yards from scrimmage on running plays for an average gain of 7.1 yards and has added 62 yards on five pass completions in eight attempts to make a total gain per game of 129 yards.

Only other conference player over the 100-yard average mark is Perry Moss, Illinois quarterback, who made 48 yards on the ground against Purdue last week and added 77 on four pass connections in 10 tosses.

Northwestern's Vic Schwall took over the scoring leadership against Wisconsin with two touchdowns and four conversions for a total of 16 points.

Bob Demoss of Purdue and Ben Raimondi of Indiana, last year's two great passing stars, have found the going a little troublesome so far this season. Demoss has completed 16 out of 36 in two games for a .444 percentage while Raimondi has hit only 10 of 28 for .357. In addition to Chappius with .625, leaders among regular passers are Bob Young of Indiana and Emlen Tunnell of Iowa, each with six connections in 11 attempts.

Leading receivers are Lou Mihajlovich of Indiana and Bob Phillips of Iowa, each with four catches. Lou King of Iowa has intercepted three aerials to lead in this specialty, and Illinois' Dwight Eddleman tops the punters with a 53.6-yard average in five kicks. Michigan's Gene Derricotte, second leading punter with a 51-yard average in three attempts, also stands out as a punt receiver with five returns averaging 20.5 yards.

would have me speak. On Sept. 3, 1939, the Dominions were faced with a dilemma of which the whole world was aware. Either they must confirm a policy which they had had only partial share in framing, or they must stand aside and see the unity of the commonwealth broken, perhaps fatally and forever.

"It did not take them long to

"I speak frankly as I know you choose, and with one exception they chose war. But the dilemma was there, and having occurred twice in 25 years, it may occur again. That is the point at which equality of function lags behind equality of status. The Dominions are free — absolutely free — to choose their path; but every time there is a crisis in international affairs, they are faced with the same inexorable dilemma, from which there is no escape."

If Canada is faced with this "inexorable dilemma, from which there is no escape," certainly there is no use pretending that the United States has not been faced with it most poignantly of all, and that the United States is not now faced with it. The dilemma is a real one, and until British-American statesmanship recognizes it, and takes it seriously, and explores it frankly, the partnership of the English-speaking peoples will be at the mercy of incidents and irritations and blunders, of isolationism in both countries and disruptive maneuvers from without. No one need doubt but that the partnership will nevertheless remain. But it will be unstable, though it is indispensible that it be solidly founded in order to insure their own survival, security and greatness, and to be the anchor of the peace of the world.

ARMY ROOTED OUT OF GRID LEADERSHIP

AP Sports Poll Gives Nod to TD-Happy Texas.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 — After two years Army has finally been rooted out of its spot at the head of the nation's football parade.

The nation's sports writers, voting in The Associated Press' first weekly poll of 1946 on the top ten teams in the country, today boosted Dana X. Bible's touchdown-happy Texas Longhorns up to the head of the class.

All told, 108 ballots were cast from coast to coast, and 69 of them voted the straight Texas ticket. Army got 21 first-place votes, and Notre Dame, finishing third, drew 15. One voter balloted for a first-place time among the Longhorns, the Cadets and the Irish. University of California at Los Angeles and Pennsylvania each drew one of the other two first-place nominations.

Under the usual point system of scoring—10 for a first place selection, 9 for second, 8 for a third and so on—it was a photo finish among the top three, with Texas piling up 999 1-3 points, Army 928 1-3 and Notre Dame 913 1-3. Army's second-place nominations were 36 to 13 for Notre Dame.

Michigan, with a total of 632 points, moved up to fourth place in this week's voting, off victories over Indiana and Iowa.

The rest of the first ten were distanced in the voting. The UCLA powerhouse, was fifth with 401 points. Alabama's Rose-Bowl champions, second only to Army last year, dropped to sixth in the current balloting, with 352. Pennsylvania was seventh with 254 1-3. Georgia and Tennessee deadlocked for eighth with 247 and Northwestern, impressive 28-0 winner over Wisconsin last Saturday, moved up to tenth, with 177.

The second ten: 11—Columbia, 146; 12—Illinois, 119; 13—Louisiana State, 94; 14—Ohio State, 77 1-3; 15—Yale, 47; 16—St. Mary's (California), 45; 17—Stanford, 38; 18—Arkansas, 23; 19—Tie between Kentucky and North Carolina State, 17 each.

Others receiving one or more points: Iowa, 15; Oklahoma, 13 1-3; Oklahoma Aggies, 13; Tulane and North Carolina, 11 each; Texas Tech and Tulsa, 10 each; Navy, 9; Indiana, 7; Rice, Harvard, Cornell and Minnesota, 5 each; Nebraska, Georgia Tech and Nevada, 3 each; Dartmouth, Virginia, Wisconsin and Wake Forest, 2 each; Penn State, South Carolina, Mississippi State, Oklahoma City, Hardin-Simmons and U. of Washington, 1 each.

Vernon Varsity Registers 12-6 Victory Over Edison

Vernon's varsity gridmen making their initial appearance of the season overcame an early Edison lead last night at the Harding Stadium being on the long end of a 12 to 6 score as the game ended. In the reserve contest neither team was able to push across a score.

About 1,500 persons were on hand for the contest.

Edison took the lead early in the first quarter after recovering a Vernon fumble on their own 46. Edison fullback Browning set up the scoring play dashing from the 50 to the Vernon 8. Browning then carried the pigskin into six point territory.

Vernon Scores

Vernon scored early in the second quarter climaxing a drive that started on their own 14. Running beautifully righthalf Dowler went 35 yards to the Edison ten, eluding would be tacklers by expert side stepping and change of pace. It looked as if Edison would get the ball on downs but on fourth down with 15 yards to go Dowler took the ball on a deception play going into the Edison end zone.

Edison was on the Vernon five when the half ended.

Dowler Hits Pay Dirt

The final tally of the game came when Vernon got the ball on downs on their own 36 in the final minutes of the third quarter. The scarlet and grey team had advanced to the Edison 42 when the quarter ended. Vernon used an aerial and ground attack to advance to the 18 from which Dowler once again raced to pay dirt.

Edison then uncorked a last minute scoring drive. Browning advanced the kick off 16 yards to the Edison 44. Running from a T and single wing formation, Browning made most of the Edison yardage putting the ball on the Vernon 16. Brokaw picked up five and Browning got to the eight. A pass out to the right side from Brokaw to Drake advanced the ball to the two and the game ended.

This contest was highlighted by the fact that both junior high teams played viciously in an attempt to chalk up a victory and when tempers flared a couple of players were ejected from the game.

Reserve Scoreless

When the reserves clashed neither team was able to drive to pay dirt although both teams threatened. The deepest penetration of the game was made to the Edison eight.

BATTLE MUCK FIRE IN HARDIN COUNTY

Road Thought To Be Undermined Near McGuffey.

Special to The Star

KENTON, O, Oct. 8—Kenton firemen and volunteers have been fighting a muck fire along a township road near McGuffey since Saturday afternoon. Kenton's new 1,370-gallon water-carrying truck was taken to the scene of the fire for the third day Monday.

Tons of water and shovels have been used in combatting the fire which local Fire Chief Jones says, is one of the hardest type fires to extinguish as it may burn underground for several feet before out cropping on the surface.

Reports from the McGuffey, O. area Monday said that two other muck fires had started in that area, one of them endangering a field of corn.

CPA TIGHTENS VET HOUSING RESTRICTION

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 — Reports of $100,000 swimming pools and fences and walls costing $50,000 led the government to tighten its construction restrictions today in favor of veterans housing.

"We had too many loopholes in our previous orders," a civilian production administration official told a reporter, citing the costly pools and walls as an example.

Brought under controls for the first time are swimming pools, boardwalks, amusement park roller coasters; concrete surfaces for parking lots, tennis courts and drive-in theaters, and walls or fences built of wood, brick, concrete or concrete blocks

None of these must be planned or started without specific authorization unless they cost less than $200 Similarly, no repairs or alterations may be made without a permit if they cost $200 or more

Those which have been started with the materials on the site may be completed. Permits are required for all others.

"We have to get the bricks and cement to complete veterans' homes first," the CPA official said.

MEAT

food front there were these other developments:

1. The government said the continuing transportation crisis will interfere with the movement of food and other farm products next year No shortage of livestock cars was predicted, however.

2. Mr. Truman said this country will always be able to feed itself, as well as others. The Chief Executive made no reference to the current meat situation, however, in his brief talk with state representatives of the agriculture department's production marketing administration.

The agriculture department has reported a tendency on the part of some livestock men to hold meat animals for possible higher prices.

Under the new price law, an industry advisory committee may petition Anderson for decontrol, although the secretary has said that any such petition must be based on the ground that supplies are sufficient to meet requirements.

THIRD PARTY MOVE DISCUSSED BY AFL

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 8—A third party move entered the American Federation of Labor's convention political discussions today but veteran AFL leaders forecast it would make little headway.

The plan, put forward in a resolution assigned to a convention committee, contemplates formation of a third political party sponsored by the AFL with labor, farmer and consumer support.

It attracted attention among convention delegates because of present AFL coolness to both the Republican and Democratic parties and of AFL President William Green's disagreement with many policies of the Truman administration.

ITLER CALLED ATHER OF SON

Woman Claims Goebbels' Boy Belonged to Fuehrer.

By The Associated Press

MUNICH, Germany, Oct. 8 — [illegible] Meissner, wife of Adolf Meissner, former secretary of state, disclosed the deceased fuehrer a sentimental lover who sired a son born to the wife of Paul Joseph Goebbels, Nazi propaganda minister.

The son was born in March, 35, and died in the suicide of the Goebbels family in the last days before Berlin's fall in the spring of 1945 to the Russians, Mrs. Meissner said in an interview yesterday.

Goebbels knew Hitler was the boy's father and "took advantage of this knowledge," she said. "Otherwise the fact was kept secret. I am the only survivor who knows it."

Named Helmuth

Hitler's son was named Helmuth and was the result of a romance between the Nazi fuehrer and Goebbels' attractive, ash-blonde wife, Magda, while both were vacationing in the Baltic sea in the summer of 1934, Mrs. Meissner said.

"At that time Mrs. Goebbels was on bad terms with her husband," she said, "and Goebbels spent only his weekends at Heiligendamm, while Hitler lived there constantly for two or three weeks.

"He lived in the same hotel as Mrs. Goebbels and visited her so regularly in her apartment that their relations were obvious. When out in society together they seemed lost in each other's company, especially when love songs were played."

"Mrs. Goebbels loved Hitler's child especially. Hitler, too, maintained an active interest in his son."

Had Hitler's Eyes

Mrs. Meissner said Helmuth's head and eyes were the same as his father's."

"With this hold over the Fuehrer," Mrs. Meissner said, "Goebbels could assert himself with impunity to Hitler. Therefore he was able to get away with a scandalous way of living."

Hitler was not faithful to women, she said.

"Even during his long affairs with Eva Braun, he had relations with other women," Mrs. Meissner said.

"Hitler seemed to prefer blondes. Later, when Mrs. Goebbels had trouble with her husband again, she had a romance with a state secretary in the propaganda ministry."

Previous to her affair with Hitler, Mrs. Goebbels had three other children, Mrs. Meissner said—two daughters by Goebbels and a son by an earlier marriage. ◆

Meissner now is confined at Dachau awaiting trial by a denazification court.

STEELS AND RAILS LEAD STOCK RALLY

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 8—Steels and assorted rails led a selective recovery sortie in today's stock market without generating any real stamina.

Commission men credited a certain amount of bidding to the belief the list was due for a technical revival in the wake of four straight declining sessions.

Prominent on the quiet comeback were Bethlehem, U. S. Steel, Republic Steel, Montgomery Ward, Chrysler, Woolworth, Public Service of N. J., American Woolen, Santa Fe, Great Northern, Union Pacific and American Smelting.

Philip Morris, American Tobacco "B" and Reynolds Tobacco "B" pushed up in further response to the cigaret price lift. S. S. Kresgie common stiffened on an extra dividend.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8—With the scene of the delayed World Series moving to Boston Wednesday, MBS will start its broadcast at 1:15 P. M., an hour earlier than from St. Louis. That will be the time for Thursday, too.

This year's microphoning has introduced a different team of play by play announcers, Arch McDonald and Jim Britt. They had something to shoot at in such past performances as those of Red Barber and others. But a lot of listeners thought they were missing the bullseye, at least at times.

Developments for tonight: MBS 8 addition of another mystery drama, "Private Detective Michael Shayne," starting a week earlier than at first planned.

ABC 9:30 return of Boston Symphony hour under direction of Dr. Serge Koussevitzky, at a new time after moving from Saturdays of last season.

CBS 10:30 Bernard Baruch discussing atomic energy upon receiving the annual Freedom House award, to be presented by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

PEACE THE NO. 1 ISSUE

Editor of The Star: The pronouncements of Henry Wallace have struck a responsive chord in the hearts of all the Americans. This is witnessed by the continued publicity on the controversy and the new note of conciliation in the speeches of Secretary Byrnes.

Peace is the No. 1 issue in the present election campaign. All other issues hinge on it. Soviet-hating, red-baiting, labor-hating, Jew-baiting and Negro-baiting are all Hitler techniques to "divide and rule." They are a smoke screen behind which the people hide who dare not or can not discuss the real issues.

The American people want peace above all. They want jobs; they want security; they want homes and happiness. The 79th congress mangled OPA. Now all our ills are blamed on the administration. True, the administration has been weak and vacillating. The pressure of the big money interests has forced the administration to give way. All price rises granted have had the excuse that profits must be maintained. The welfare of the majority of the people, which comprises labor, farmers, professionals and small business men, has been shoved aside as of no consequence. Are we going to stand by and let the big monopoly interests get away with it?

Let our candidates come out and face the people with their stand on such issues as peace, [illegible]

Then let us exercise our rights. We must demand that our candidates make themselves clear. The record of the incumbents in congress is clear. No amount of election promises can erase that. The new candidates, however, must take a stand; and we, the voters, must make our choice based on the understanding of the issues. It is our duty to register, study the issues and candidates, and vote in November.

MRS. JOSEPH M. GONZALEZ

KNOWS ALL ANSWERS

By The Associated Press

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.—Everyone knows no one is expected to make a perfect score on the Army's classification tests so when J. F. Price did just that when seeking entry to an officers' candidate school, the officer in charge made him take another test while the supervisor watched. The result was the same, and fast, too. So Price explained to the puzzled officer: "I've been checking these test papers as an enlisted man for three years. All I have to do now is look at the question number and I know the correct answer."

Prospect Gun Club To Use Camp Owens Range

Special to The Star

PROSPECT—Hugh F. Hay of the executive board of the Harding Area Boy Scout Council has informed the Prospect Rifle and Pistol Club that the Scout board has approved the use of the Camp Owens rifle range by the Prospect club.

The matter will not be closed however until the signing of a legal agreement now being drawn up by an attorney member of the Scout Council. Although the Boy Scout range does not offer ideal shooting conditions it is the only possibility in view at the present for the club to obtain an outdoor range site use of which will be guaranteed for any certain period of time. This will be fully discussed at the annual meeting of the club Oct. 11.

Members and prospective members wishing to attend or fire in the rifle match to be held at Mansfield Oct. 10 contact Dick Watkins or be at the corner of Elm and Water streets at 6 p. m. at which time cars will leave for Mansfield.

Membership applications of Paul D. Penry and Leonard Ahmay which were presented at the last meeting have been accepted by the club.

Thorough car inspection is an important part of our expert lubrication service. Our men are trained to watch for causes of trouble. For instance, an acid eaten battery cable detected and replaced, may save much inconvenience and possibly a towing bill. Tires, too, are often a clue to faulty alignment or wheel balance. Careful inspection is your best protection against troubles that grow more expensive. We invite you to drive in for a check-up.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

I OPENED my mouth to protest Katharine's dictum, then closed my lips tightly. I had the feeling that the presence of "Mr. K." outside the door of Sam Brixton's room, without the sick man's knowledge, violated the promise Katharine had made him that I should see him alone, and discredited the pledge Sam had given me that he would make no more attempts upon his life.

But, after all, I told myself, this was Katharine's affair primarily. She was in charge of Samuel Brixton, and she considered him wholly unreliable. It was her business to provide safeguards. It was mine not to quibble at anything she did.

Failing Dismally

"You will do, of course, as you think best," I said, trying to make my voice sound cordial, and aware that I was failing dismally. "Sam is your patient."

"Something I'm trying to remember twenty-four hours of the day," she retorted. Then she clapped me on the shoulder.

"Tell that Puritan conscience of yours to take a run-out powder," she advised grimly. "The cards are all stacked against you when you play with a Brixton—all except Ronald," she amended.

"I wish he were home," I said fervently, with a nostalgic wish for the presence of Marion's young fiance.

"I imagine," Katharine said dryly, "that 'over the Pacific' is a nicer place right 'now than his home would be. But we're wasting time. Please come back with me to Sam. But, first, 'Mr. K.'" she directed, "here's the secret of opening this door noiselessly once it's been closed. Just pull down on the knob, this way, before you turn it, and open it this far."

Could Peer Through

She opened the door silently, indicated to the FBI man where he could peer through a crack at Sam's bed, and then closed the door as noiselesly.

"Now, Madge, if you'll trot along," he said, and I followed her back to Sam's bedside, where she put her fingers on the sick man's pulse.

"You're doing all right," she told him, smiling, "and now we'll leave you to your five minutes' confab. I'll even give you an extra two minutes' leeway. Are you ready, Dr. Twitchell?" she asked, turning to the elderly physician.

"All ready," he said, and in another half minute, the physician and the nurse were in the corridor, and the door had closed, not noisily, but with a click that I heard distinctly. I strained my ears for its opening as Katharine had planned, but could hear no slightest sound. However I did not doubt that it was open, and that "Mr. K." was standing guard outside, watching Sam through a crack in the door opening.

Click of the Door

Sam looked up at me at the click of the closing door.

"They're both gone?" he asked. "There's nobody here but you? Nobody else must hear this, you know."

I salved my conscience with the knowledge that I could tell him the truth about his last words.

"Nobody possibly can hear us," I said. "And both Dr. Twitchell and Mrs. Bickett are well away from the room."

His sigh of relief appeared to come from his feet beneath the coverlet.

"Then Ill talk fast," he said. "First, I've got to see Helena. She's got something I gave her to keep for me. She has it hidden somewhere, but I don't know where. And Mrs. Bickett won't let me see her alone."

"I think you know the reason for that, Sam,"I said quietly, and his pallid cheeks were suddenly stained with crimson.

Couldn't Talk

"Yes,I do," he said. "Those sleeping bills. But it was my fault. I had told her that she must keep me drugged, so I couldn't talk. But you mustn't misjudge her," he added hastily, "she knows nothing of why I mustn't talk. She thinks it's because I have Oriental enemes."

His eyes were filled with loving loyalty of which any wife might be proud. Then his lips twitched again into the wry semblance of a grin.

"And that's no lie," he said. "I have some very efficient Oriental enemies who employ Occidentals to do their dirty work for them."

CARDS SPARED BY CENSORS

By The Associated Press

WARSAW, Poland—If there's any doubt about a rigid, internal censorship in Poland, this should clear it up: A secretary to Vice Premier Stanislaw Mikolajcyk, asked at a press conference what portions of the newspaper Gazetta Ludcwa had been censored, itemized them and added: "Everything's censored but our visiting cards."
